

Ms. Ramirez's Teaching Philosophy

I believe that teaching is a calling from the Lord and thus approach it with my deepest sincerity. I aspire to help the students I am entrusted with so that they may grow into faith filled individuals. A classroom should be a positive learning environment where the teacher and students build a classroom family. Every student is a unique individual who needs a caring, safe, and engaging classroom environment where they can grow as a learner. I know with all my heart that every student in my class can learn and succeed. However, they may not do it in the same way, so I must modify my instruction to actively engage every student for each lesson. My instruction is adjusted to fit all learning styles through whole group, small group, one-on-one learning, and learning stations. It is my hope to share my love of learning with my students through my positive attitude. I will encourage them to perseverance and work hard. Ultimately it is my desire to fill my students with their faith while they learn to become life-long learners.
